BUCON, Inc. (Butler Construction) Changes Name to BlueScope Construction, Inc.

As of January 5, 2009 BUCON, Inc. (d.b.a. Butler Construction) officially became BlueScope Construction, Inc. The name change allows the company to leverage on the size and resources of our parent company, BlueScope Steel North America. Thanks to this relationship to BlueScope Steel, BlueScope Construction (BSC) will be the only contracting firm in the country that can offer an integrated supply chain from raw steel to finished construction.

No services have changed—we've just expanded our offerings. We remain a design-build general contractor and will continue to provide in-house structural steel design and detailing, buildings from the world's preeminent engineered building manufacturer, and in-house steel erection services. We've also added in-house concrete foundation, slab, and tilt-wall construction to our capabilities. And, a number of our employees have become LEED Accredited Professionals. We believe the net result of these expanded capabilities will result in greater control of the construction schedule, enhanced quality, lower in-place cost, and a one-stop warranty program for our customers.

Please note that all addresses and phone numbers have not changed.
